PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE LECTURES CLOSE, The People's Institute held its final meeting for the season at Cooper Union last evening. About ifteen hundred persons were present to hear addresses by the Rev. Dr. Edward McGlynn on "Our country's Undeveloped Empire." the Rev. Thomas R. Silcer on "The Ballot and Education." William R. Silcer on "The Ballot and Education." William And Charles Sprague Smith, managing director of the institute, on 'The People's Institute and Its Mission." The general topic by which the addresses were governed was 'The Outlook.' The speeches were patriotic and especially timely in their nature, and those who spoke were frequently interrupted by cheers. Dr. McGlynn held forth stronkly for the annexation of outlying territory in the present war, and commented on the present friently relations of this country with Engand.

Mr. Russell's speech on citizenship touched several local matters of intonest, and was received with great favor by the sudience, which cheered the speaker at the glose. In speaking of 'The Mission of the People's institute Mr. Smith pleaded strongly for the support of more institutions like Cooper Union and its auxiliaries.

Leighton, of St. Louis, and Brayton Ives, James W. Ellsworth. Howard Mansheld, William T. Evans, I. Wyman Drummond and Samuel T. Shaw, of New-York.

The legal profession is represented by ex-Judge Henry E. Howland, one of the Art Commission appointed under the new charter for New-York, and by Robert W. De Forest. The universities have representatives in President Gilman, of Johns Hopkins, and Professor Allan Marquand, of Princeton. Bankers with art leanings are Perry Belmont and Spencer Trask, while literary men have representatives in R. W. Gilder and C. de Kay.

The object of the Arts Clith, which is now looking for appropriate Iddament in New-York, is to provide headquarters for National art and a rally point for those who think that the time has come for American manufacturers to add the art touch to the objects they make. It will offer a social half of a high class to non-tesidents and interest every one by its public-spirited cutzens and social spirited purpose.

The pames of its governors for the first year are evarrant that it starts with the best wishes of the arely artistic organizations of New-York, which in no sense proposes to rival, but, or the caarary, to add, by offering a neutral ground on which riets and art lovers and public-spirited citizens and work together for the good of American arts and manufactures.
